

NEXT COMES CALM

My First • Then • Next Board

A free calm-support tool for any hard moment

Kids do better with hard moments when they know what's coming. This simple board breaks any routine or transition into three clear steps — write, draw, or use printed picture cards in each box. Reuse it for mornings, appointments, outings, or anything that feels unpredictable.

First

what happens now

draw, write, or place a picture card here

Then

what happens after

draw, write, or place a picture card here

Next

what comes later

draw, write, or place a picture card here

HOW TO USE IT

- Fill in the three boxes together, before the hard moment starts
- Keep it on your phone, or print and use dry-erase or sticky notes so it's reusable
- Point to each box as you move through the steps together
- It's okay to change the plan — just update the board and try again
